A SICK video of a cat being drowned in a bath has been posted on the internet — by the same sadist behind footage of a kitten being fed to a python.

The latest video — uncovered by The Sun — shows the terrified pet taped to a broom handle being slowly lowered into the water by a woman.

Bubbles can be seen rising as it struggles frantically before losing its fight for life.

The footage, called "Bathtime lol" was posted on YouTube at the weekend by a user called jasminthecatt666.

The same sicko posted a video exposed by The Sun last week, which showed a tiny kitten being fed to a Burmese python — as the Christmas song Little Drummer Boy played in the background.

The oddball is linked to a film posted last Christmas in which a man kills two kittens by putting them in a bag and sucking the air out with a vacuum cleaner.

Disgusted readers contacted The Sun about the python video. Anna King said: "This scumbag needs

What the hell is being done to catch this sick twisted pervert before he/she/they post any more vile videos of the murder of innocent animals. Do we have to wait until nearly next Christmas for the next episodes???

YouTube logs all IP's of videos that are uploaded... why can't they trace the IP and arrest the people? I know YouTube have done this for suspect terrorist link videos.

OMG what is this world coming to. I cannot believe the mentality of these people. They are truly mental cases and need professional help. How anyone could do this to innocent kittens and then put it on you tube is just beyond my imagination. These poor darling kittens had no chance. Someone must know about this and should report this person immediately. This is just really sick. I am disgusted and upset that horrible atrocities like this go on in our world. Please catch this person soon.

Babooshka 123, facebookpage is named "Help the Sun find the sicko serial cat killer", and an event has been posted with a sample letter to be send to Interpol. Can't seem to paste links in here.

words fail me!
How this scumbag can get enjoyment from this is quite simply astounding. The look of terror on the cats face is heartbreaking and after recently losing my cat to an accident in the road i cannot fathom how supposed human beings can think and act in this way...

Oh god, I didn't know there was another video. What worries me about this is that perhaps this incident only occured because they got so much attention from the incident with the python. If that's the case, the police need to work on this QUICKLY otherwise we will subject to a video a week of animal torture...

This is absolutly disgusting and this person needs to be caught and severely punished. Is it worthwhile contacting newspapers such as the Metro? A Facebook group should also be set-up to try and get as much publicity as possible. @dazaman that's a really good point, the amount of coverage the story about Mary Bale got shows how disgusted people are at animal cruelty so the media should be giving this coverage.

Get the IP addresses of these disturbed monsters (don't call them human please!) and make them responsible for these acts. I am sure YouTube has a way to track these videos down, but apparently they don't do anything.

The sad thing is that i think IF (s)he gets caught i don't think (s)he will get the full extent of punishment. She will be off paying $10 "fee" and laugh on her way back from court and upload another video a week later. Sad but true. Please, please put that person away for 6 months PLUS have her pay the full amount if she ever gets caught. Thanks.

This disgusting piece of humanity is using you tube to display their cowardice and mental health problems. You tube as you are the site where these pond life are getting attention may i suggest you release the IP address immediatly on your site ? i know there are a couple of decent human beings who would like to see it .In the mean time any hackers out there fancy a challenge? tick tock.

Surely The Sun have alerted police to this? Hope so. This is appalling and, like I've said in the other story comments, very likely to be a just some of this person's behaviours already or more to come.

This person(s) is clearly a twisted freak, i really hope they are caught. North London, Islington, obviously owns a python...surely someone knows or has an idea. Surprised the IP can't be traced from the original video.

TrevorLukeCannon and snowki well done for offering to add to the reward. I'd love to contribute good money but realistically can't cause I'm a poor student with no income atm lol. Let's hope all the goodness of your hearts goes towards catching this thing. I spoke to the sun newsdesk and asked them about setting up a petition and they said I should fire off an email to them. Not sure what else I could do but we've got to catch this thing before its too late.

im also going to add to this reward i will put up another £1000 im going to contact PETA involved, this is outrageous of human life form absolutely disgusting im just not going to bother with my words.. I AM A CAT LOVER, to be honest its all the ones who own these stupid pretators thinking they can feed it whatever like a mice is no different to a cat or rabbit or whatever.. the point is all these human companion animal "PETS" dont also live with these stupid pretators in their no man land habitat do they?? NO they dont their with other pretator food chain things, so therefore they are obviously NOT a pretators food chain! you see? the only reason you feed a snake a mice is because you own it which is then classed as a man made act, why wont these pretator owners understand this? ITS THE STUPID OWNERS WHO MAKE IT THERE FOOD CHAIN as you see.....by this stupid low life in the corner psycho human act..... all pretators as pets is such nonsense they should be banned from human life, then nothing like this would happen. We actually benefit from human companion animals aka "PETS" and we do not from pretators.. LEARN IT!!!

Wow, drowning? That is possibly one of the worst ways to go and to do that to something for no other use than entertainment to ones self is pathetic.

I sometimes wonder if people think to themselves; would I like this done to me?

to help with this people need to tweet share and spread this by word of mouth..get mad yes but use the anger in a good way by spreading the news and keeping an eye on your pets and neighbourhood pets. youtube aren't interested in comments you can tweet them but I hardly see it making a difference...now boycotting them may help..also know that youtube is owned by google so boycott google don't sign up for apps and use a different search engine. most of all don't let these poor kittens lives be lost in vain...we must find them.

This is actually heartbreaking.... It's so upsetting seeing so much cruelty and damnright torture towards animals and to make things worse it's been in abundance recently. We need to enforce harder, more punishing laws against things of this nature. It's not right. I have no faith in the human race anymore...
